Unbeaten Girls To Meet Azle Sat. For Region Title

By BEELEE GOODWIN

Canyon's undefeated Girl Eagles, after hitting the century mark in a bi-district win Tuesday night here, will travel to Sweetwater Saturday for a 7:30 p.m. regional championship game against Azle.

The Girls will try to make the Saturday night outing their 34th straight win this season.

Powered by an unstoppable Robena Johnston, who's averaging 35 points per game this year after making the all-state squad last season, the Girls will face an Azle team which is 24-6 for the season, but which downed Stephenville, virtually a perennial foe of Canyon in post-season games, 66-65 to take the bi-district crown earlier this week.

Sweetwater High School gym will be the site of the regional game.

"They've got a good ball club," Canyon Coach Bob Schneider said of Azle. "They beat a good team (Stephenville)."

Canyon coaches have scouted

Azle and say they have size on the winning Canyon girls. Azle will be starting with a 6-0 post forward and with a 5-5 and 5-7 forward. Guards range in size from 5-6 to 5-10.

The outing will mark the first time a Schneider team has faced Azle.

The winner of the game will advance to the state championship tournament next weekend in Austin.

The Canyon girls earned their berth in the regional championship game by downing El Paso Jefferson 100-54 Tuesday for the bi-district crown before a standing-room only crowd of about 1000 persons in the Canyon High gym.

The capacity crowd saw the Girl Eagles get off to a slow start but catch fire before the half-time buzzer sounded.

At the end of the first quarter, the Canyon girls led by eight points, 25-17. Then, in the second quarter, the Girl Eagles blew the game wide open by scoring 27 points to Jefferson's seven.

Robena Johnston accounted for 41 of the 52 points scored by Canyon in the first half.

The second half was more of the same as the girls completely dominated play.

Miss Johnston, averaging 35 points, led all scorers with 57. Louise Davis scored well above her 14 point average with 22. Other Girl Eagles in the scoring column were Brenda Stevens, 8; Becky Williams, 6; Pam Woolsey, 5; and Deedy Johnson with 2.

As the team, the girls shot 55 per cent from the field and 68 per cent from the foul line.

Denise Hamblen led the defensive effort with a grade of +8. Polly Crawford, Penny Peckenpaugh and Lisa Cathey had grades of +6, +5 and +4 respectively.

The game was virtually a repeat of last year. The 1974 state championship Girl Eagles team beat Jefferson 81-31 in the bi-district play-off.

That was the first year Jefferson competed in University Interscholastic League play. This being only the second year in league competition, inexperience on the Jefferson team made itself known by the lopsided score. "We are still several years behind Canyon," Jefferson coach Yvonne Franco said.

"We started off a little slow and didn't rebound very good at the start but we got going after a while," Schneider said after the game.

Commenting on the play of a couple of his girls, Schneider said, "Louise Davis did an excellent job of feeding the ball and Becky Williams is improving with each game."

City Sets HUD Funds For Paving

Canyon city commissioners, forced to ditch plans which themselves were not grandiose, decided Monday night to seek federal community development funds simply to pave four blocks of city streets in West Canyon. Commissioners made the decision on the basis of advice from Acting City Manager Tom Plumlee who said federal Housing and Urban Development Department officials told him two weeks ago Canyon's original plan for spending $31,000 next year would probably not be approved.

The Monday night action formally junked a proposal prepared by Plumlee after a public hearing in late December for spending $31,000 anticipated to be granted Canyon during the next year by HUD for community development projects. The original proposal had called for expenditures for hiring of a community development planner, for upgrading code enforcement, and for funding for a senior citizens center here.

Plumlee said Monday night he will prepare a new grant request to submit to the Panhandle Regional Planning Commission (See CITY, Page 2)

County Treasurer To Ausin Fri. To Seek Bill To Abolish Office

County Treasurer Bob McClendon, who won election last fall after he promised to try to abolish the office he sought, will travel to Austin Friday to present to legislators a constitutional amendment to do just that.

McClendon said Monday that, weather permitting, he will present his House Joint Resolution in the hopes that it will be ratified by the House and Senate now meeting in the state capital during regular session.

The resolution, if passed, would place on the ballot next November a proposed amendment to the Texas Constitution allowing for the abolition of the Randall County treasurer's office only. It would also combine the duties of the county treasurer with the legislatively-established county auditor's office with the auditor performing the treasurer function.

The resolution which McClendon will propose Friday states: "Whereas, the formations of the two offices are duplicative causing unnecessary expense and duplications of duties and functions for the citizens of Randall County, Texas; and,

"Whereas, the qualified voters of the State of Texas should be entitled to vote on whether or not they want to abolish the office of County Treasurer of Randall County, Texas and combine the office of County Auditor with that of County Auditor."

"Now, therefore, be it resolved that the question of whether to abolish the office of County Treasurer of Randall County, Texas be submitted to a vote by the qualified voters of this State at the next general election and that such proposition be voted as follows:

"To abolish the office of County Treasurer of Randall County, Texas and confer the duties of County Treasurer on the County Auditor of Randall County, Texas with the said qualified voters allowed to vote either for or against said proposition."

"In the event the qualified voters of this State cast a majority vote in favor of the proposition, the office of County Treasurer of Randall County, Texas shall be performed by the County Auditor of Randall County, Texas."

McClendon had initially said he would propose a constitutional amendment which would alter the status of the county treasurer's office of each of Texas' 254 counties.

Announcing he would seek election to the post last February, McClendon ran on a Democratic primary ticket in May 1974 and downed his opponent, Fern Patterson, without actively campaigning. Last November, he beat Mrs. Marty Schantz in the general election, again without campaigning actively.

His only promise during the campaigns was to attempt to abolish the office he sought.

Judge, Commissioners Won't Back McClendon

County Judge Woody Pond and Randall County commissioners indicated Monday they will not support an effort by County Treasurer Bob McClendon to have his office abolished.

"If he wants to go down there to present it, that's fine," Pond said, "but I'm not going to support it."

McClendon said Monday he will go to Austin Friday to present a joint resolution he hopes will pass both House and Senate to place the proposition of abolishment of the county treasurer's office in the county on a future constitutional amendment ballot.

"There's a place for it (the county treasurer's office)," Pond said, "and if it's run right it serves as a check and balance. I think we should keep it. There's a place for it."

Under current Texas laws, the county treasurer's office is established by an article in the State Constitution. The county auditor's office, which McClendon proposes to assume the duties of the treasurer should the treasurer office be abolished, is established by statute. The county auditor is appointed by district judges. Under the legal system, the treasurer is to be financial officer for the county while the auditor serves as a check on the functions of the treasurer.

County commissioners agreed with Pond that the functions of the county auditor are those of checking the work of the county treasurer and the county would be unable to have this built-in check system without both offices.

"I'm sure he feels obligated to do it (try to abolish his office)," Commissioner Paul Lindsey said of McClendon, "since he ran on that. But, we'd need a plan to see that the county finances are taken care of."

Commissioner John Fulgenzi said the basic check and balance system embodied in the two offices would be lost were the two offices combined.

"I think the county treasurer's job could be highly viable if the duties are performed to the fullest," he said. "It appears Bob has been implementing these duties."

Commissioners Dee Griffin Sr. and Jim Fletcher agreed that it would upset the checks and balances in the county financial structure to abolish the treasurer's office and combine functions with those of the auditor.

McClendon has previously said the check function of the auditor has been minimized, anyway, by the annual outside audit report prepared by an Amarillo accounting firm.

Icy Conditions Continue Wed.

Canyon residents were still watching their steps on icy sidewalks Wednesday after a six-inch snow Saturday night and early Sunday which left nearly a half-inch of moisture as it melted.

The wet and heavy downfall began as day turned to dusk Saturday and continued through the night until daybreak Sunday, covering highways and laws with a half-foot coat of white.

A cloudless day Sunday, melted much of the snow and ice from highways, particularly U.S. 87 which connects Canyon with Amarillo and traffic was reported flowing normally Monday morning as students poured into the city for classes at West Texas State University.

Monday was a day shrouded in fog and visibility on area roads was cut down measurably. A trace of snow fell Monday night.

Tuesday was again sunny and snow continued melting, but remained on the ground in many areas even Wednesday.

The snow came into the county Saturday evening on the heels of a cold front which kept temperatures (See ICY, Page 2)

1974 Wheat Crop Here Way Down From '73

Randall County farmers' 1973 wheat crop put the county in the top 10 wheat producing counties in the state. The 1974 crop, harvested last summer, took the county out of the top 10.

Wheat production in the county increased from 1.488 million bushels in 1972 to 4.244 million bushels in 1974, an increase of 2.756 bushels.

Wheat production dropped dramatically from the 1973 high of 4.24 million bushels to 810,000 bushels produced in 1974, a decrease of more than 3 million bushels.

In 1973, the county was fifth in the state in wheat production. In 1974, it had no rank.

According to figures compiled by the office of the state agriculture commissioner, Randall County farmers planted 182,000 acres of wheat in the fall of 1973 for harvest in 1974. Only 55,000 acres of wheat was finally harvested last summer, producing an average of 14.7 bushels per acre or a total of 810,000 bushels.

In 1973, farmers planted 152,000 acres of wheat and harvested 131,000 averaging 32.4 bushels per acre for a total of 4.24 million bushels.

What the figures for the two years don't show was the tremendous impact of the weather on the 1974 crop, which began starving for water almost as soon as it was planted. An unusually dry winter spelled early trouble for the farmers here, who were forced to abandon thousands of acres of wheat when summer rolled around.

County Agent John Brazzil

said the 1973 wheat crop was the biggest harvest on record in the county, producing a cash result of about $12 million.

He said he can't recall a smaller harvest in Randall County than that recorded for 1974.

Ochiltree County was top wheat producing county in the state in 1974, followed by Deaf Smith County.

Randall County farmers rebounded from their losses last summer to plant what will be a record-breaking number of acres of wheat last fall for harvest this summer.

And so far, Brazzil reports, moisture is working with the farmer. The wheat has seen steady growth due to light rains through the fall and winter and (See WHEAT, Page 2)

Commission Seeks Hike In County Office Fees

County commissioners, in a resolving mood, instructed the county judge Monday to prepare a resolution asking state legislators to raise the fees which various county officers can charge for filing or serving legal instruments.

Any increase in fees could substantially increase the funds brought into county coffers during the year.

County commissioner Jim Fletcher urged other commissioners to support such a resolution, which will go to the area and state county judges and commissioners associations for action before the state legislature.

County Clerk LeRoy Hutton told commissioners during their regular Monday meeting that all fees collected today were set by law more than six years ago.

A substantial portion of Randall County's annual income comes from fees collected by the tax assessor-collector, the county clerk, the district clerk, and the sheriff.

During 1975, for example, county commissioners expect to collect $146,000 in fees through the county tax assessor's office, $72,000 through the county clerk's office, $28,000 through the district clerk's office, and about $55,000 through the sheriff's office.

The fees collected by each office are prescribed by statute and in some cases a portion of the fee money collected in each office goes to the state treasury.

Hutton's office has been self-supporting for the past several years, with his office expenses covered totally by the fees he takes in for filing of various legal instruments.

Following Monday's meeting, Pond said the county office fees are not keeping pace with the rising costs of doing county business. In many cases, he said, it costs more for an office to file the paperwork than the fee established by law for the service.

Hutton, following the meeting, said the largest bulk fee charged by his office is $40 to process a mental commitment, including paperwork and transporting the person to a mental institution in Wichita Falls or Vernon.

He said since his election back in 1967, supplies in his office have tripled in cost while the fees to file the paperwork generated have remained stable. Only increased volume has enabled his office to remain within the fee total he collects.

In other business Monday, commissioners haggled over whether to begin again paying mileage rates to county officials (See HIKE, Page 2)

There was a time when a man who couldn't afford a psychiatrist could take his troubles to a friendly bartender.

Bartenders were noted for their sympathy and understanding as well as downright wisdom in matters of finance, family and romance.

They always understood what a low type of fellow a stout drinking man can sometimes draw for a boss... the nagging of a wife who often expects a man to buy groceries instead of whiskey and the veritable unreasonableness of creditors who think a man ought to ugh! go to work.

Those days when a fellow could find certain comfort while taking on a load seem to be on the way out.

Dr. Tom Cannon was in the office this week with the sad news that a computerized bartender has been installed in a Lubbock watering place and the infernal machine has no compassion whatsoever.

You just go in and dial a Tom Collins or a Whiskey Sour and the contraption measures out the right amounts of each spirit and shoves the concoction at you without so much as an "It's nice weather we're having."

Imagine trying to get some advice from a computer on what to do about your wife having found out that you haven't been working late at all but have stashed a clean shirt at the office and have been tripping the light fantastic over the hills and far away.

To cap it all off they're talking about computers that won't let you turn your ignition key if there's liquor on your breath.

The machine age has really arrived.

Dr. Joe Markham wants to have Dr. Heartsill Wilson, the Chamber of Commerce banquet speaker, back for another talk as soon as possible.

Dr. Wilson spoke on renewal of patriotic fervor which he sees as necessary for the survival of our present form of government.

Dr. Wilson may be very sincere. I grant that he is but his cause is immeasurably hurt by politicians like Spiro Agnew who have been mouthing the same message while lining their own pockets.

So many people believed Agnew meant what he was saying when he posed as the all American boy and suffered such disappointment when he turned out to be a common crook that self-styled patriots now are often viewed like a rerun of a bad TV movie.

I wish this were not true but unfortunately my wishes have little effect on the actual state of things.

We face three great crises about which little or nothing is being done.

The first and most important is the breakup of the American family unit — as I have said before the building block of nations.

Loyalty to and cohesion of the family group is almost a prerequisite to a national existence.

Without this loyalty and cohesion the national will is damaged and the crises is so new that we cannot yet ascertain the extent and far reaching effects of that damage.

The second crisis is of course the energy crisis. I think this could be solved in a relatively short time if we addressed ourselves to it regarding vested interests of major oil companies and politicians.

The third is the ecology crisis. Zealots on both sides have demanded the unreasonable and as a result we may one day find ourselves unable to breathe.

I don't know whether or not the people will listen in time.

Noah could scarcely get his own family on the Ark before the rain began.

Lot left most of his relatives to perish in Sodom and Gomorah. Even his wife went reluctantly and looked back disasterously.

So what can we seriously expect now?

The matter arose over a $12 request from Mrs. Audrey Bruse, tax assessor-collector, for reimbursement for car expenses travelling to and from Amarillo on county business.

County Judge Pond and Commissioner Paul Lindsey bucked when asked to sign a voucher to allow payment of the mileage, saying they had understood that only extraordinary travel expenses for county officials would be paid on a per-mile basis. Commissioners in January had done away with the $75 per month car allowance for county elected officials and combined that amount with their monthly paychecks.

Lindsey said it had been his understanding that even though the $75 per month was simply included in the officials' paychecks, it would still cover car expenses incurred in the normal job routine.

Commissioners John Fulgenzi and Dee Griffin contended that mileage should be paid. Lindsey suggested the commissioners simply revert to paying the regular $75 per month car allowance.

Commissioner Jim Fletcher questioned how much money it will cost the county to pay the mileage rates for each county official.

Fulgenzi moved that the county pay 12 cents per mile for any travel relating to county business, but later withdrew his motion.

The matter was not settled during the meeting.

County Treasurer Bob McClenon, after meeting in executive session with the commissioners, told them he had made changes in the county's investments in an effort to make more interest on idle funds.

The employment of a part-time secretary for his office was approved.

Commissioners signed a resolution which will go to Rep. Jack Hightower, and Sens. Lloyd Bentsen and John Tower urging the continuation of the federal revenue sharing program which will add about $500,000 to the county's treasury by the end of 1976. They also told Judge Pond to include a cover letter when the resolutions are sent to the representatives asking that Hightower, Bentsen and Tower respond to their resolution.

Commissioners asked Road Supt. Joe West to set up a list of road department workmen who would be available on a voluntary basis to work overtime to clear county roads of snow or ice in case of inclement weather.

First National Bank of Canyon was awarded a contract as depository for the county's funds for the next two years. The bank was sole bidder for the depository and offered to pay a rate .125 per cent higher than the prevailing U. S. Treasury Bill rate for interest on the funds.

Dr. Dudley Moore of Canyon was reappointed as the county's health officer, and Mrs. Betty Davis of Canyon was named the county's representative on the Amarillo Bi-City Bi-County Health Unit board of directors.

The acting city manager said HUD officials have said they will look most favorably on funding programs which produce tangible results and which relate directly to the upgrading of housing developments.

A tentative eye for the paving has been cast to that portion of 6th Avenue which lies between 6th and 2nd Streets in the city.

Plumlee said there is no assurance that if the city receives the $30,000 or so in funding for the first year that they will receive subsequent year's funding. A total of $760,000 was initially believed to be earmarked for grant requests by Canyon.

Now, Plumlee says, that amount is not even assured.

Commissioners considered briefly before being dissuaded the possibility of using some of the first-year money to lay water and sewer lines to unserved areas of West Canyon. But, City Water Supt. Robert Rogers said $31,000 would not cover the costs required to give new service to residents of that area.

Mayor Manly Bryan told college students attending the city commission session that the HUD grant procedure has been "mass confusion on everyone's part."

The grant request must go to PRPC for initial approval by March 1.

In other business Monday night, commissioners approved purchase of a chlorine contact chamber for the city's sewage plant at a cost of $14,000.

Low bidder for construction of the chamber was Frank Getman and Sons.

Rogers told commissioners the chamber must be added to the city sewer plant because it has been mandated by the Texas Water Quality Board and the federal Environmental Protection Agency. Effluent from the sewer plant will flow through the chamber for treatment before being released into Tierra Blanca Creek east of Canyon.

Contract for seal coating of 50 blocks of city streets next summer was awarded to Jake Diehl, who bid a total of $17,564. A total of $16,000 had been tentatively budgeted for the work.

Commissioners passed until their next meeting a work session on their proposed 1975-76 city budget.

They voiced their intent to allow deannexation of 50-feet of Hunsley Road north of the city at the request of developer A. W. Lair.

Because of the rapid melt of the icy cover Sunday, traffic accidents were kept to a minimum. Crosby Hammons, dispatcher for the Randall County Sheriff's Department, said only three accidents were reported inside and outside the city for the three-day period.

The half-inch of moisture from the snow helped along the county's wheat crop, planted on a record acreage last fall.

County Agent John Brazzil said the moisture will aid significantly the subsoil moisture for the wheat.

Light rains throughout the fall growing season have nurtured the crop and Brazzil reports the crop is in good condition. He says the prospects for a good harvest next summer are good.

The measure of the crop will come in the next spring months, though, and much of the success of the crop will depend on rains in April and May, normally heavy rain months here.

"If we can get the normal spring rains, things look very good," Brazzil said.

Because of the good outlook for the crop, most farmers will probably not graze out their land this year, the county agent said, and most cattle imported to winter-over here will be taken off wheat pasture by mid March.

Schools To Seek Combination Athletic Director And Coach

The Canyon school board met Monday night and decided to "pursue the hiring of a combination head football coach-athletic director," according to Supt. Jerry Jacobs.

Jacobs said last week that he and other school staff members would recommend to the board that one man be hired to act as both head football coach and athletic director.

Canyon High Schools Assistant Principal W. V. McAlpin is currently the school's athletic director.

Dr. A. J. Luquette appeared before the board to voice his and other concerned parents' views of the football program in Canyon.

Several inadequacies in the program were listed by Dr. Luquette with the main one being the separation of the athletic director and the head coach.

"The football coach must have complete control of the program from the Jr. High through Sr. High and must have time to give supervision to all grade levels involved. Canyon diverts the football power structure through the Assistant Principal's office," Dr. Luquette stated in a list of inadequacies presented to the board members.

"We also need to intensify the off-season program," Dr. Luquette added.

In concluding his presentation, Dr. Luquette said, "All we're asking is to get out of the football program the same things we're getting out of the other programs in the school system."

Farm Show Set By WTSU

Two agriculture clubs at West Texas State University will be holding their First Annual Farm and Ranch Equipment Show from April 1 to 5.

The Block and Bridle Club will have ranch equipment and supplies exhibitors from a five-state area, while the Farm and Ranch Club will host the farm equipment and supplies exhibitors.

The show will be held on the University campus with campus tours daily. This will be the only show of this kind in the Panhandle, and one of the best ways a farmer and rancher can look at everyone's line of equipment before making those costly purchases.

Any farm and ranch equipment manufacturer or distributor in the five-state area of the Texas Panhandle is welcome to exhibit his product. For more information on the show, contact the Plant Science Department in the School Agriculture at West Texas State University, telephone 806-656-2391.

Indian Woman's Role Topic At USC Meeting

"The Woman's Role Among American Indians" was the subject of Dr. James Hansen, director of the Panhandle-Plains Historical Museum, as he spoke to a gathering of University Study Club members in the lecture room of Cornette Library Friday afternoon, Feb. 14.

Introduced by Mrs. Gene Morrison, Dr. Hansen showed that the mythical woman's role among American Indians shows that women did all the work while their Indian men chased buffalo — but this is not necessarily true.

He noted that each tribe varied and some tribes didn't even chase buffalo, and the work among many tribes was equally divided between men and women. He also noted that sometimes the Indian men claimed several wives and thus the workload of the squaw was divided among several.

Dr. Hansen was presented with the traditional miniature branding iron of the chapter as an appreciation gift for his speech. The registered branding iron was presented by Mrs. Gilbert Irlbeck of the local club.

The afternoon meeting was opened with Mrs. Dudley Moore, Jr. leading the American Creed and giving an explanation of the creed. Approximately 25 USC members were present for the afternoon and refreshments were served by Mrs. Bob Lindsey and Mrs. Gilbert Irlbeck from the table which featured a Valentine's theme.

The club's next meeting is scheduled to be a "guest day luncheon" at the Amarillo Club on March 14. Judge Mary Lou Robinson of the Court of Civil Appeals will present the program on Women's Challenge at the March 14 session and local members should make advance reservations with Mrs. John Womack by March 10.

LITTLE READERS will hear the story of the "Three Bears" read by Jan Welch with interpretation from hand-puppets as demonstrated here by Gwen LaBrie, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. David LaBrie, at this afternoon's first story hour for Little Friends beginning at 3:15 at Canyon City Library. Weekly story hours are planned as a project of the Friends of the Library for children 3-5 years old.

Little Friends Story Hour Set Thursdays

A story hour for "Little Friends" of the Canyon City Library will begin this afternoon, Thursday, with 3-4 and 5 year old children invited to participate from 3:15 to 3:45 p.m.

The story hour is a project of the Canyon Friends of the Library Group and committee representatives planning the project are Dr. and Mrs. J. B. Roberts, Viola Robins, Jan Welch and Jane Stephens.

Later the story hour will include children's films and various other activities in addition to the reading of children's literature. All preschoolers age 3 and above are invited to participate and the timing of the story hour has been set so that it will coincide with mothers picking up older family members at school, and comes after naptime of the preschoolers.

Library's Friends Make Plans For Spring Book Sale Project

The monthly board meeting of the Friends of the Library was held at the Yum Yum Tree Restaurant in Canyon at noon Thursday, Feb. 13, with a number of reports given by various chairmen in the voluntary service group.

Dr. Pat Sullivan reported on recent actions of the programs and projects committee. He noted that several subcommittees are presently working on the following projects: books for the hospital patients, books for Randall County Jail inmates, and book discussion groups including one for high school students with Dr. Godfrey in charge.

Other projects being considered are a study of arts and crafts with Margaret Campbell in charge, selecting and distributing books to shut-in residents and tapes for the blind or partially blind citizens of the community.

A report on children's story hours to be offered through the library was given by Mrs. J.B. Roberts and it was noted that the special children's programs will be in effect shortly.

Plans were revealed for a spring book sale to be held in the near future with Rev. Terry White, chairman, in charge of collecting books, magazines, tapes and records from local citizens for the sale. Collection receptacles will be placed in local grocery stores and banks for collection and residents are requested at this time to begin making selections for contributions to the project.

Additional memberships are available in the "Friends" which is open to any resident desiring to see the Canyon City Library benefit from continued interest and voluntary service. Residents desiring memberships may send dues to Conway Kuykendall, Friends treasurer, or contact Col. John Childs at First National Bank of Canyon, vice president in charge of Friends membership. Membership dues range from individual memberships of $1 up to group membership of $5, or annual sustaining memberships of $10, or lifetime memberships for donations of $100.

Pioneer Personalities Discussed At Club

Heritage Woman's Club members met Monday evening, Feb. 17, for a program on "Pioneer Personalities" presented by Dr. Fred Rathjen at the home of Mrs. George Louder, 1209 20th Street, Canyon.

Dr. Rathjen discussed the pre-settlement era before 1876 and gave historical accounting of Coronado, Josia Gregg, J.W. Abert, Nelson Miles, Frank Baldwin and Ronald McKenzie during the period preceding the influx of cowboys and settlers.

A professor of history at West Texas State University since 1956, Dr. Rathjen earned his B.A., Ma. and Ph.D. degrees from the University of Texas in Austin. He was born at Clarendon but moved to Corpus Christi as a young boy and was raised in the Gulf Coast area. He is the author of a recently published book "The Texas Panhandle Frontier."

The club's meeting was opened with members singing the Texas song, answering roll call and hearing a federation speech given by Mrs. Larry Brandon. The fine arts report on "the art of baking bread" was given by Mrs. George Louder and homemade bread, jams and jellies were served as refreshments following the meeting.

Four club members were recognized with medallion remembrances for their service during the past month. Recognized were Mrs. Ronnie Gordon, for her service as chairman of the "games night" and also for being selected as HWC outstanding junior clubwoman; Mrs. John Plank, for being selected as HWC outstanding leadership development representative; Mrs. Nick Cavrich for service as entertainment chairman at the February 14th Famous Couple's Party for HWC members and husbands' and to Mrs. Steve Wisniewski for introduction of a new HWC federated club member.

In other business, Mrs. Nick Cavrich urged HWC members to sell pantyhose throughout the community and distributed samples to members for the project. HWC members were also urged to make and bring a number of handmade gift items for display and sale at the district convention.

tion boutique. The boutique will be open during the Top Of Texas District Convention to be held in Amarillo April 4-5 and funds derived from the boutique will be used for the Texas Federation of Women's Clubs headquarters building.

The sale is to include numerous handmade items from HWC members and others of the community which will be sold in an effort to raise money for the Forehand family. Community residents have been invited to participate in the project by donating selected handmade gifts for the sale and may contact Mrs. Vise, 655-7448, for suggestions and information regarding the project.

Next meeting of the club is set as a "browsing social" for March 13 to include a membership tour of the Furniture Galleries and Thompsons of Canyon. The program will be a discussion of interior decorating. The March business meeting for HWC will be March 17 at the home of Mrs. Jimmy Marrs, president, at 5303 Pico Drive, Amarillo.

Proper Freezer Management
Saves Pocketbook Shortages

By BECKY HALL
County Extension Agent
Good freezer management can produce pocketbook dividends.

Rising food prices have caused more people to recognize a home freezer's benefits, but to fully realize these benefits, a homemaker must practice good management techniques.

For example, she can take full advantage of store specials by purchasing in quantity and freezing them. However, make sure these "bargains" are worth the price and are foods that the family likes.

Wise shoppers buy food on a planned basis. By purchasing meat in quantity, a consumer usually gets better quality at lower costs.

Day-old baked goods offer additional good buys. Freezing them restores lost moisture.

However, don't clutter a freezer with bulky, inexpensive items.

Turning to home-prepared foods, freeze fruits and vegetables at their peaks for the best quality and economy.

For convenience, freeze foods in proportions usable at one time.

When preparing a meal, make extra and freeze it for another day. Also, freeze leftovers for later use in home-made TV dinners.

Remember, quality coming from a freezer can be no better than the quality put in. However, that quality can be lost without proper wrapping and storage.

Proper wrapping is a "must" for foods to maintain quality. This includes using moisture-vapor-resistant wrapping material and making the package airtight.

Also, set up a system of dating packages—then use them while contents are in top condition.

To maintain food quality, keep freezer temperatures at zero degrees or below.

Family Music Entertains Fine Arts Club Members

Entertaining the family with music for personal enjoyment was the basic theme of a program presented by Bill and Judy Evans and their three daughters, Shavawn, Katherine and Jocelyn, at the meeting Monday evening, Feb. 17, for the Canyon Fine Arts Club.

The Fine Arts Club meeting was held in the home of Mrs.

Myron Dees with eleven members present as "family music was presented vocally and with instrumentation from recorders, flutes, drums, triangle and piano" by the Evans family group. The Evans stressed that family music should be used for enjoyment of all family members as they presented the program.

Shower Fetes Miss Hufnagle

Miss Kathy Hufnagle, bride-elect of Harry P. Volanty, was the honoree Saturday afternoon, Feb. 15, at a miscellaneous bridal shower given in the home of Mrs. Charles Harter, 1404 Creekmere, Canyon.

A candlelight theme chosen by the bride-elect was carried out at the serving table which was laid with a white imported lace cloth and centered with an epergne of shaded pink flowers. Silver candlesticks with pale tapers flanked the setting as the bride's aunt, Mrs. John Plaster of Pampa, and cousin, Gloria Hitchcock of Amarillo, presided at the punch service. Decorated cake squares were served by Mrs. John Jennings and Mrs. Jack Downing and the shower guests were entertained with background music presented at the piano by Mrs. Meade Humphries.

Co-hostesses for the afternoon were Mesdames Lucien Upshaw, Winston Hall, Earl Reynolds, S. P. Burgess, Jozach Byrd, John Hardaway, Jim Irlbeck, John Jennings, Allen Downing, Bill Sternberg, Jack Downing, Gort Rushmer and Mrs. Harter.

LOOKS LIKE WE finally got that big one. It was 5 to 6 inches on Saturday night and early Sunday morning. It was really beautiful.

Of course, the moisture is just great for the ground. It won't be long until the grass and trees will begin to grow and green again.

Soon we will be ready to plant those useful gardens, so any moisture is most welcome.

Try A Plant 'Mister' For Indoor Garden

Plants need moisture. In addition to regular care, if you spray your indoor garden with a mist of water each day, it will grow greener and stronger and the plants will love you for it.

Misting of plants costs nothing more than a little time if you make your own "plant mister" from a spray cleaner bottle. After you've put the product to work cleaning away the dirt, put the empty bottle to work too.

Just rinse the bottle and sprayer thoroughly with warm water, fill it up with cool water and you've got your own "mister." Sprayer bottles with adjustable spray effects will work great on all your indoor plants from the tiniest ivy plant to the giant philodendron.

Keep the "mister" on a shelf where you can see it and use it often. To make it even more attractive, brighten the "mister" with colorful glued-on paper or cloth flowers.

So, if you are talking to your plants without results try misting them. Moisture is something the plants will understand.

News Returns Bridal Pictures Unharmd

With the hustle-bustle of setting up their new homes many brides don't take time out to stop by The Canyon News office to retrieve their wedding or engagement photographs.

Your wedding and engagement photographs are not harmed in printing of the paper and are available for the couple to have the following week after publication.

The News does not return these photographs by mail, however, they are filed and should be picked up as soon as possible — could really be a nice memento for the bride's scrapbook or for a mother or grandmother to treasure!

Learn & Live Group Wins

By MARY NEAL HENRY
SNOW FELL NOISELESSLY beginning late Saturday evening. More fell Monday evening until we had approximately five or six inches.

Reports at Wayside were around the same but Happy reported three or four inches.

West of Happy and out toward Arney folks reported ten to twelve inches of snow.

There were no blizzard type winds and their absence was a blessing.

HAPPY "LEARN AND LIVE" group from the drivers education group won on the Tuesday program. The program will be shown the first week in March. Members of the group representing Happy were Connie Hand, Cathy Parker, Debbie Parker, and alternate, Beverly Down. They competed against Quannah and scored one hundred fifty points to their opponents forty. Happy will tape another show in April.

THE HAPPY JAYCEE Community Auction on Saturday was a cold one. It lasted almost all day — maybe it was dark when they completed it. A good crowd attended in spite of the weather. Happy Jaycee-Ettes serving at the concession stand sold more hamburgers than they had ever sold at the auction concession before.

WEST TEXAS STATE

Bank honored Alden and Ruth Mann Tuesday with an open house all day at the bank. Alden is retiring after 49 years in the banking business.

Alden and Ruth rank among Happy's Outstanding citizens. They staunchly support their churches, the Happy Rainbow Assembly, the Order of the Eastern Star, and Alden is Masonic Lodge.

Alden has bought each Installed Worthy Advisor of the Happy Assembly (and there are three a year) a corsage for her installation since Rainbow Girls began in Happy in 1946. He has always attended their meetings and been their Rainbow Dad. Alden and Ruth have helped more young girls than the combination of their years. They never forget.

I probably have as many birthday cards from Ruth as I have had birthdays. I wish them many happy days during their retirement. When I asked Alden his plans for the future, he said, "I am just going to play it by ear." Approximately two hundred registered at the bank during the day.

Sorry I missed it. I had intended to be there (but I fell off the haystack that morning.)

He is survived by his widow, Emma; two sons, Doyle of Westminster, Colorado; and Lynn of Clarendon; three grandchildren and two great grandchildren. Jessie Lane of Wayside was a niece.

THE FUTURE HOME-MAKERS of America held their annual Sweetheart Banquet in the school cafeteria Saturday evening. It was preceded by a reception given by senior mothers.

The theme of the banquet was "Under the Magnolias" and the decorations were in pastel colors. Cathy Parker was mistress of ceremonies. Fay Hand pronounced the invocation.

Cathy Parker welcomed the group. Terry McDonald, FFA President, responded to the welcome. Ricky Mantooh and his band from Canyon provided the entertainment for the evening.

Mrs. Karleen Moore, Home Economics teacher, presented the Betty Crocker Award to Debbie McCarley.

As I write this, it is again snowing. Now, if the wind doesn't blow and drift the snow, we can be most grateful.

Common Cause Committee Here Seeking Members

Canyon residents now have a direct opportunity to join forces with other Texans in a citizens lobby — Common Cause.

Dr. Darrell Munsell, history professor at West Texas State University said he has agreed to serve as chairman of a Panhandle-wide steering committee to promote Common Cause, a lobby at the national level since 1970.

His efforts will be directed toward seeking members in the Panhandle area.

At the state level, Munsell said, the lobby has been effective in drafting reform legislation for presentation in the Texas legislature.

Common Cause, he said, has as its goals this year a push for establishment of a public utilities commission, and reform of the property tax and school funding procedures.

The function of the steering committee, he said, will be to seek members to work through Common Cause to serve as a watchdog on elected officials, and to disseminate information about the activities to the legislature.

Common Cause, he said, does not back parties or candidates.

"We're mainly trying to open up the system so people are represented," he said.

"Therefore, it's a citizens lobby."

Early Earns Doctorate At 55

West Texas State University Assistant Professor of Economics Allen Early at age 55 has earned his doctorate in economics from the University of Oklahoma.

Dr. Early started his doctoral work in the spring of 1970. His first teaching assignment, at WTSU began the following fall.

The reason for this late desire to achieve academia's hardest goal, Early says, is "If you are going to get into something you need to qualify yourself properly."

Early actually began his doctoral work at the University of Texas, where he earned his master's degree, in the 1940s, but left the university shortly afterwards to begin a business career in Amarillo. He was named to Phi Beta Kappa, the most prestigious scholastic fraternity, while earning his bachelor's degree from Vanderbilt University in 1940. He is one of only six WTSU faculty members to hold the Phi Beta Kappa key.

His dissertation for OU was on the "Regulation of Life Insurance in Texas: A Study of the Impact of Regulatory Policies on Industry Structure, Behavior and Performance."

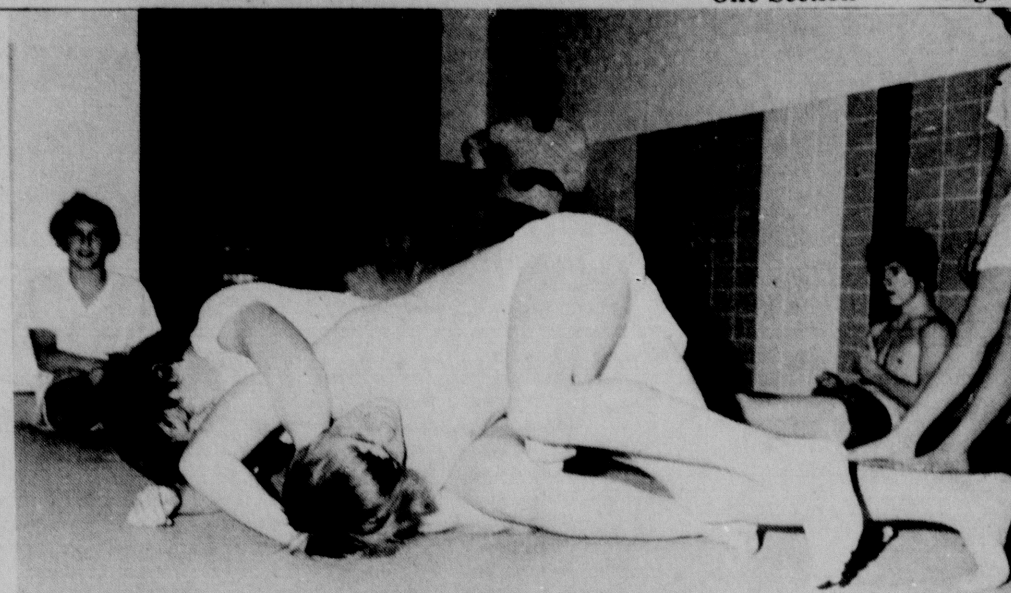

"I feel I have something to offer to students from my background in business," Early says.

Early who has lived in Amarillo all of his life, has been a leader in such organizations as the Rotary Club, Better Business Bureau, United Fund, PTA, and the YMCA.

He and his wife Virginia reside at 5305 Tawney, Amarillo.

CJHS Intramural Wrestling To Begin

Take-down, switch, escape, reversal.

These are terms which will be used in abundance when the Canyon Junior High School Intramural Wrestling competition takes place on February 25 in the Junior High School Gymnasium. The one night exhibition, which will be under the direction of Bob Sloan and the Junior High coaching staff, will feature the finalists in the competition which has been going on in the athletic classes during the past week. The competition in ten weight classes will get underway at 7:00 p.m. concluding with the heavyweight division.

Wrestling, which is only in its second year at the Junior High school as an intramural competition sport, has really caught on with the students as well as the parents. This sport is not just a matter of the biggest and strongest boy wins. Usually the boy who thinks and uses his body with good moves and

Math Department Seeks Fall Staff

The West Texas State University Department of Mathematics is actively seeking six graduate teaching assistants for the fall of 1975.

According to Dr. Hollis Cook, department head, the teaching load will be 6 hours a week, and the salary $310 a month, which probably will be increased substantially by the fall.

"Our graduate assistants have private offices and good working conditions and hours," Cook notes. "The teaching assistant position is also a good stepping stone for getting jobs elsewhere."

For more information, contact Dr. Hollis Cook, Department of Mathematics, West Texas State University, Canyon, Texas 79016 or telephone 656-2267.

reason why, unlike football and basketball a boy can receive much pleasure and self gratification from participating in the sport.

CAN RHEUMATIC FEVER BE PREVENTED?

Unfortunately its cause is not completely clear. We do know that about half of all cases have had tonsillitis or a sore throat from one to four weeks before.

It must be recognized before the heart is seriously injured. Only a physician can diagnose it. Protect your children. Always consult your doctor when they have a fever or sore throat. If the diagnosis is early, rheumatic fever is not as dangerous.

Borrowing Included On Veteran's Pay Scale

In addition to receiving pay raises, veterans can now borrow up to $600 a year for college costs, said John Curry, campus veterans representative. A pay increase of 22.7 per cent gives single veterans, studying full time $270 a month instead of the previous $220.

Operated by the Veterans' Administration, the loan program allows veterans to borrow up to $600 for college costs a year, $300 for one semester during the regular session and $300 for a quarter or a summer session.

Other loans include $800 for a full year and the summer session, $500 for the semester and a summer term, and $400 for a quarter and a summer session consisting of ten weeks.

Veterans who are taking a course leading to a standard college degree or who are undergoing six months of full-time training are entitled to loans, Curry explained.

Loans may be paid back in ten annual installments with an eight percent interest rate. Payments begin nine months

Girl Scouts Sell 8,160 Cookie Boxes

The Canyon District of the Girl Scouts has concluded the annual "cookie sale" with a grand total of 8,160 boxes being ordered by individuals and businesses, according to Mrs. Don Sheffy, cookie sales chairman.

from the last day of enrollment.

Repayment may be deferred, he said, if the student re-enrolls.

Final registration figures on the number of veterans enrolled at WT are not complete.

"Enrollment certifications for veterans were slowed down due to the many veterans who didn't stop by the VA table at registration," Curry said.

"All veterans or other eligible persons receiving VA educational assistance should stop by the VA table during registration of each semester, whether summer term or regular session," Curry said.

He said that if the number of veterans had increased for the spring semester, the increase would not be significant.

Modern World Seminar Topic

"The Intellectual Background of the Modern World: From the Crisis of Belief to Existentialism," will be the fourth West Texas State University Saturday Seminar Feb. 22 for academically talented high school juniors and seniors.

The lecture, given by Dr. Russell Sparling, will begin at 10 a.m. in Room 102 of the Science Center and will end at noon. All academically talented high school juniors and seniors are invited to attend. More information about the seminars can be obtained from their high school senior counselor.

Dr. Sparling, assistant professor of English, will correlate literary works by masters such as Tennyson and Melville to the three major phases of the intellectual background of the modern world.

He will explain the crisis of belief from 1859 to the present in relation to scientific rationalism and religious faith.

He will further relate existentialism, "an antidote to naturalistic bleakness," to naturalism, which is an outgrowth of the crisis of belief.

Funds For Seats Sought Here

Directors of the Panhandle Heritage Foundation are asking local folks to put their money where they sit.
